

Electrical Hazards Awareness training is a must for everyone involved in tree care.

Simply put, it is a Basic Matter of Safety. If you work with trees, you will encounter electricity. Electricity can be very dangerous.

Do you understand all that you need to in order to work safely around electricity and power lines?

This EHAP workshop is being offered by CTPA to help prepare individuals for the electrical hazards they will face in their everyday jobs.

Attendees will learn about the electrical distribution system, the hardware used in that system, the types of electrical hazards a tree care worker is likely to face and how to be prepared when you are encountering electricity on the job.

Total cost for each attendee is $110.00 for CTPA members, $125.00 non-members.

This workshop will focus on the hazards all tree care workers face when they work around energized electrical conductors. This awareness is an essential part of basic tree care safety. It is recommended that all people who work in tree care take an EHAP course. This one day workshop will be led by Emmett Shutts, Cheshire, CT. Emmett is a licensed CT arborist and Supervisor of Arborist Skills Trainer with The Davey Tree Expert Company and David Ross, Woodland Tree Works, LLC, is also a licensed CT arborist. A tabletop live wire demonstration will be given by Doug Pistawka with Eversource.

During the seminar Emmett, David and Doug will share information about the electrical distribution system and the hazards associated with working near electrical conductors. Safety standards and best practices for working near electrical conductors will be discussed.

Line Clearance Qualification for employees can only be certified by the employer. This educational seminar can be part of the training. Mr. Shutts will discuss how employers can implement this training and document certification. CTPA will not be providing this additional training or testing.

CTPA encourages all companies engaged in tree care to have an EHAP program in place for all of their employees. Cost for this workshop is $110 members and $125 non-members. This price includes lunch, and full day of instruction. Ensure your reservation by October 30th. Space is limited!

If you are requiring certification from TCIA, you will need to take the EHAP course online. This course is put on by the CTPA, and is designed to give education on Electrical Hazards.

It is not associated with the TCIA certification process.
