The CTPA in 2021-2022

The Connecticut Tree Protective Association weathered the ups and downs of the COVID mandates over the course of the year. The Board of Directors took the issue very seriously and each time the mandates were pulled back and put in place, the health and well-being of people were top priority. The Summer Meeting took place in person. It was held at just the right time, in between the State of CT putting mandates in place for in person events. On July 15, 2021 the CTPA had a great lineup of speakers. The talks all took place outdoors so that people could be distant from one another but still be able to attend talks, gain knowledge and CEU's. Ben Karlson and Casey Tresp from Bartlett Tree Experts gave a talk and demonstration on Single Rope Technique (SRT). Darryl Newman from Planter's Choice Nursery talked about Ten Great Trees from a Nurseryman's Point of View. The Agricultural Experiment Station played a big role in giving many talks and walks. Five scientists from the station set up tables (Southern Pine Beetle, Spotted Lantern Fly, LoneStar Ticks, Beech Leaf Disease and the impact on Arborvitae). Each table allowed attendees to visit, learn and ask questions. Rose Hiskes, Windsor Agricultural Experiment Station, and Todd Mervosh took people on a walking tour around the Farmington Club and talked about invasive plants. Jeff Ward, New Haven Agricultural Experiment Station took people back to basics on a walk to identify trees. The weather was hot (90 degrees F) and sunny with 726 adults and 13 children in attendance. There were 34 exhibitors in attendance and the food was plentiful!

Fall is also the time in which the September to December session of Arboriculture 101 is held. This highly successful and consistently popular CTPA offering is geared towards those who want to take the next step in their career in arboriculture, especially those who would like to earn their arborist license. Arboriculture 101 is a 13 week course, one night a week for 3 hours, that is taught by scientists from the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, professionals from DEEP and practicing arborists. The course is continually at its capacity. It provides a rich blend of arboricultural understanding for all who take the course.

Bringing Something to the Table

The Fall course we held in person at Jones Auditorium at the New Haven Agricultural Experiment Station. The CTPA is very grateful for the support and understanding of the experiment station, the students and the instructors. The classes were held at the Ag. Experiment Station instead of the CTPA office in Wallingford because Jones Auditorium allowed the students and instructors to be socially distant. The mandates were put back into place by September and New Haven required all people to wear a mask if indoors. There were 44 in the Fall 2021 class and 45 students in the Winter 2022 class. The aim of each class is to have 40 enrollees. For the previous 2 Arboriculture 101 courses, an average of 80% missed 3 or fewer of the 13 sessions. These 80% then receive a Certificate of Completion for the course. Following the class, students are encouraged to register with DEEP to take the Arborist E-Licensing Exam, which many do, as they then go on to earn their license. The online exam is new to Connecticut and will allow the students to take the exams at their pace. The second and third legs of the exam, Tree Identification and the Oral exam will continue to be in person every three months by the Tree Examining Board.

The Electrical Hazard Awareness Program (EHAP) is an ongoing workshop that is organized by the CTPA Safety Committee. This year due to the mandates set by the State of Connecticut the EHAP classes could not be held. We are looking forward to the day they can resume.

The Connecticut Tree Protective Association turned 100 years old in 2022!!! On January 20, 2022, CTPA held its 100th Annual Meeting online via ZOOM. It was with a heavy heart that the Board of Directors had to take into account the mandates, volume of people that would attend and the health of all who would be at the meeting. It was decided to cancel the in person annual meeting, refund all who had registered and hold the event online. The turnaround to change from in person to online was two weeks. There were 333 people in attendance to listen to the speakers, take quizzes and gain their CEU's.

The CTPA started the online Annual Meeting with the business meeting and this is where new officers and board members are elected. This year there were no new directors appointed to the board as all the previous year's directors remained. Patrick Flynn of Bartlett Tree Experts was voted in as President, Dr. Claire Rutledge of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station was voted in as Vice-President and Michael Almstead from Almstead Tree and Shrub Care was voted in as Secretary-Treasurer. After the business meeting Chris Donnelly, Kirby Stafford Ph.D, and Emmett Shutts gave the talk "The CTPA-100 Years Old and Just Beginning". The talk looked back on how the CTPA was founded and what guided it the past 100 years and a look toward the future. After that Dr. Doug Tallamy gave a talk on "Nature's Best Hope" - creating landscapes that enhance local ecosystems. After lunch, Diane Jorsey, DEEP Pesticides, and Dr. Jason White from CAES, gave updates. And Dr. Doug Tallamy gave another talk on the "Nature of Oaks". All the talks were very well received. We hope to have Dr. Tallamy back some day!

The entire annual meeting was four and a half hours and the attendance numbers stayed steady throughout the meeting.

CTPA remains strong at over 810 Regular Members and 43 Allied Members.

Arbor Day was in full swing this year on April 29, 2022. The committee held a poster contest that was open to all fifth graders in the State of Connecticut. Of all the towns that participated, 12 winners were chosen from 8 towns. The Arbor Day ceremony took place at 10am at Bushnell Park in Hartford. Each poster winner was present and at the time of being presented with their framed poster, a booklet of all the poster winners and a bag of goodies, the student told the crowd about their favorite tree. There were approximately 70 people in attendance including students, teachers, parents and several from the CTPA. A tree was planted in honor of Arbor Day.

The Climbing Competition was held on May 14, 2022 at Boothe Park in Stratford, CT. After a couple years off, the climbing competition was up and running with 22 climbers and 45 volunteers. The day was long with afternoon rain during the Master's Challenge that made maneuvering through the tree..... a challenge.

And lastly, our UCONN Partnership Committee continues to work with UCONN by financially supporting the adjunct professor position. The CTPA proudly continues donating the funds needed for the adjunct professor so that the program can grow as the major builds interest. The adjunct position is a fundamental role in the major as it is a link to the academics of the major and the reality of the industry.

While CTPA Committees are chaired by members of the Board of Directors, all interested Regular Members are invited and encouraged to participate.

CTPA Committees Mission Statements

Arbor Day Committee

The Arbor Day Committee will enhance public awareness of the importance of trees and tree care through pursuit of the following goals:

The preparation and presentation, annually, of an Arbor Day celebration of the highest possible quality.

A continued increase in the number of student participants in the Connecticut Tree Protective Association's annual Arbor Day Essay Contest.

Participation by our membership in Arbor Day events.

The incorporation of as many aspects of tree care as is possible during the commemoration of Arbor Day.

The creation of an Arbor Day celebration that ensures ease of access to the greatest number of people.

Education Committee

The Education Committee functions to provide educational opportunities for those involved in tree care in Connecticut. For tree workers who wish to gain their arborist license, the Committee provides the means to help them towards their goal. For licensed arborists, the Committee offers opportunities for professional advancement. For those new to tree care, the Committee provides basic instruction and some guidelines on how to advance in the field.

This Committee does its work primarily through the offering of workshops and seminars outside of those offered during the Summer and Annual Meetings. Both one-day and multi-session workshops are offered. One of the most successful is the thirteen session course entitled 'Arboriculture 101', offered twice annually since 1996, which is geared towards helping those who wish to earn their arborist license.

The Education Committee is constantly seeking new ways to expand its mission. It is currently looking at ways to more completely involve the membership in choosing, planning and presenting future educational activities.

CTPA Committees

Allied Member Committee

The purpose of the Allied Member Committee is to further support the mission of the CTPA, by linking the talents, resources and perspectives of the Allied Membership with the direction of the organization as a whole. The Committee also strives to increase the value of membership for the Allied Members.

Finance Committee

The mission of the Finance Committee is to provide oversight in the protection of CTPA's financial integrity. Specific objectives include protecting the membership's interest through careful control of expenses, the protection of CTPA's assets, and the retention of the Association's non-profit status. A key component in the maintenance of financial integrity is a sufficient cash reserve relative to expenses. This reserve will be available to provide funding for periodic, irregular expenses such as legal fees, may be used to cover meeting expenses and will serve as a buffer for anticipated cash flow fluctuations.

The committee will develop and oversee CTPA's accounting system and its money management policies and goals. It will provide the Board of Directors with semi-annual reports and annually updated two year strategic financial plan in order to enhance fiscal management as well as managing the raffle prizes.

Legislative and Enforcement Committee

The purpose of the Legislative and Enforcement Committee is to protect the interests of the Connecticut Tree Protective Association, its members, and licensed arborists, with regards to the laws, regulations and the business climate in the State of Connecticut. The Committee will consist of two or three members. The Committee Chair will be a member of the CTPA Board, and will also serve as the CTPA representative to the Environmental Industry Council.

It is important that the members of this Committee build relationships within the green industry, and with regulators in the DEP and legislators in the General Assembly. It is especially important that the members of this Committee have a strong relationship with the members of the General Assembly's Environment Committee. It will always be a source of pride for this Committee that it continue to win the battle for a strict Arborist Licensing Law, and for strict enforcement of this law. Members of the Committee will always be vigilant, lest hard fought-for regulations not be enforced. This type of 'watchdog' mentality will permeate throughout this Committee, with regards to all issues that may affect the Association and its members.

Executive Oversight Committee

The Executive Oversight Committee oversees the activities of the current Board of Directors, advising the Officers as to the mission of the Association and the necessary activities of the Board. The EOC also serves as the Nominating Committee for officers and Board Members. It is made up of all Past Presidents currently on the Board.

Meeting Planning Committee

The Meeting Planning Committee acts as a steering body and assists the Executive Secretary in exploring avenues to increase attendance and revenue, and enhance educational and recreational opportunities for members and vendors, at the Summer and Annual Meetings. The committee will work with both the Association President and Vice-President in developing the schedule of speakers for the meetings.

Public Relations Committee

The Public Relations Committee generates awareness of and interest in the Connecticut Tree Protective Association. The committee stresses the value and importance of CTPA, to CTPA's own membership, other 'green industry' groups, and to the general public. The committee promotes the message in CTPA's credo that "we advance the care of Connecticut's trees".

1) Event coverage:

The committee will seek to provide coverage for the Annual and Summer Meetings, and other CTPA activities such as the CTPA tree planting ceremony on Arbor Day. Such coverage will be through the outside media, as well as through CTPA's internal reporting mechanisms, such as the Newsletter and the Website.

CTPA Committees

2) Other activities:

The committee may also seek to contribute stories to the public through newspapers and other means on such topics as tree problems and remedies, safety in arboriculture and other tree related topics.

Special Events Committee

The members of the Special Events Committee of CTPA are working to increase the awareness of trees, and of the people properly licensed to care for them. The committee's goals include the education of communities in order to unify them in the protection of trees, through the encouragement of public initiatives in the care and preservation of trees.

Safety Committee

The purpose of the Safety Committee is to heighten awareness of safety among members of the CTPA and others involved in tree care in Connecticut. The goal of this committee is to reduce workplace accidents and injuries within the tree care profession. This goal can be achieved by working towards a greater recognition that each tree care worker has the right to expect a workplace free of recognized hazards and that all individuals involved in tree care have an obligation to contribute towards the safest work environment possible.

This committee believes it is a primary responsibility of each tree care worker to strive towards becoming knowledgeable in tree care safety standards. It is also a primary responsibility of every tree care worker, from company owner to ground person, to promote and implement safe work practices. The Safety Committee will work towards accident prevention by promoting the following among all involved in tree care in Connecticut:

- ♦ greater understanding of established tree care industry safety standards, including those standards produced by ANSI and OSHA
- ♦ training in the advancement of safe work practices
- ♦ awareness of the steps involved in the implementation of a comprehensive safety program

CTPA Committees

The Safety Committee will achieve these goals by being aware of safety initiatives occurring both within the industry and outside the industry. The Safety Committee will explore resources that will help CTPA members and others involved in tree care in Connecticut advance in safe work practices. The committee will also encourage the production of educational materials, events, publications and workshops, and the inclusion of speakers on safety at CTPA meetings.

Tree Climbing Competition Committee

The Tree Climbing Competition Committee endeavors each year to organize and run a tree climbing competition that is of high quality and fair to all participants and that has, among its purposes, a demonstration of the high degree of skill and dedication to safety that are intrinsic to tree care when properly practiced.

UConn Partnership Committee

The UConn Partnership Committee was founded in 2018 after an opportunity opened up to help UConn's Ratcliffe Hicks School of Agriculture, two year Applied Science degree program. The committee's goal is to stay in communication with UConn and help in anyway they can so that the major is properly supported while it gains momentum. Ultimately, the goal is to have well rounded, educated students come into the work force ready for the industry.

(e) The Commissioner of Energy and Environmental Protection, with the advice and assistance of the board, may adopt such regulations as are necessary for the purpose of giving examinations, issuing and renewing licenses, inspection of work or revocation of licenses.

Section 23-61b. Licensing for arboriculture; examination; fees; renewal; suspension; revocation. Nonresidents. Records. Pesticides.

(a) No person shall advertise, solicit or contract to do arboriculture within this state at any time without a license issued in accordance with the provisions of this section, except that any person may improve or protect any tree on such person's own premises or on the property of such person's employer without securing such a license provided such activity does not violate the provisions of chapter 441, subsection (a) of section 23-61a or this section. Application for an examination for such license shall be made to the Commissioner of Energy and Environmental Protection and shall contain such information regarding the applicant's qualifications and proposed operations and other relevant matters as the commissioner may require and shall be accompanied by a fee of two hundred dollars which shall not be returnable.

(b) The commissioner shall require the applicant to show upon examination that the applicant possesses adequate knowledge concerning the proper methods of arboriculture and the dangers involved and the precautions to be taken in connection with these operations, together with knowledge concerning the proper use and application of pesticides and the danger involved and precautions to be taken in connection with their application. If the extent of the applicant's operations warrant, the commissioner may require more than one such member or technician to be examined. If the commissioner finds the applicant qualified, the commissioner shall issue a license to perform arboriculture within this state. A license shall be valid for a period of five years, provided the commissioner may issue such licenses such that one-fifth of such licenses expire each year and the commissioner may issue a license for a period of less than five years and prorate the license fee accordingly. If the commissioner finds that the applicant is not qualified, or if the commissioner refuses to issue a license for any other reason, the commissioner shall so inform the applicant in writing, giving reasons for such refusal.

(c) The commissioner may issue a license without examination to any nonresident who is licensed in another state under a law that provides substantially similar qualifications for licensure and which grants similar privileges of licensure without examination to residents of this state licensed under the provisions of this section.

(d) Each licensee shall pay a license fee of two hundred eighty-five dollars for each license or renewal. All examination and license fees shall be deposited as provided in section 4-32, and any expenses incurred by the commissioner in making examinations, issuing certificates, inspecting tree work or performing any duties of the commissioner shall be charged against appropriations of the General Fund.

(e) Each licensee shall maintain and, upon request, furnish such records concerning licensed activities as the commissioner may require.

(f) The commissioner may suspend for not more than ten days and, after notice and hearing as provided in any regulations established by the commissioner, may suspend for additional periods, or the commissioner may revoke, any license issued under this section if the commissioner finds that the licensee is no longer qualified or has violated any provision of section 23-61a or this section, or any regulation adopted thereunder.

(g) The Commissioner of Energy and Environmental Protection, in consultation with the board, shall establish standards for examining applicants and reexamining applicators with respect to the proper use and application of pesticides and arboricultural methods. Such standards shall provide that in order to be certified, an individual shall be competent with respect to the use and handling of pesticides or the use and handling of the pesticide or class of pesticides covered by such individual's application or certification and in the proper and safe application of recognized arboricultural methods.

(h) Any licensed arborist shall be considered to be a certified applicator under section 22a-54 with respect to the use of pesticides.

(i) Any person who is a certified supervisory pesticide applicator, as described in section 22a-54, and who is also licensed as

Code of Ethics for Connecticut's Arborists

The Arborist:

- 1) will utilize personal knowledge and skills for the greatest good to society.
- 2) will advance arboriculture by exchanging knowledge with other arborists and supporting arboricultural associations, publications, schools of instruction and plant research.
- 3) will be truthful in oral or written statements concerning the services he or she is qualified to offer and the benefits to the plants that may be expected therefrom; and will not falsely advertise as certified or licensed, or as insured unless the extent of coverage is clearly stated.
- 4) will discourage the promotion and use of techniques, methods and materials that have not been adequately tested and approved for arboricultural use by reputable plant scientists. Should an unproven technique, method or material appear to be the best choice, the client will be completely advised.
- 5) will base all expert testimony on adequate knowledge of the subject and on substantiated facts; and will render an opinion according to honest convictions.
- 6) will refrain from expressing an opinion on a technical subject, either orally or in writing, unless informed concerning the matter; and will not distort or withhold relevant data to substantiate a point of view.
- 7) will be loyal to clients or to the employing organization and will faithfully perform work assignments.
- 8) will, if a technical judgment in arboricultural matters is overruled by a non-technical authority, present in a clear manner the consequences that may be expected to occur as result of deviating from the procedures and policies which are believed to be correct.
- 9) will not, if employed as an arborist in a public capacity, compete unfairly with arborists in private business; and will not favor one arborist, group of arborists or tree care service above others in the community where all are equally qualified and available.
- 10) will avoid making unfounded statements which, in any way, might injure the professional reputation of another arborist.

Code of Ethics for Connecticut's Arborists

- 11) will not reduce the quoted fee for a specific job due to being informed that another arborist has quoted a lesser fee for the same job.
- 12) will, if engaged in the private practice of arboriculture, refrain from reviewing the work of another private arborist or the latter's employer, but will refer the review of the work to a qualified person not engaged in private arboriculture.
- 13) will not offer employment to an employee of another arborist without the latter's knowledge, but will instead endeavor to train employees wherever possible.
- 14) will uphold the principle of appropriate and adequate compensation for those engaged in arboricultural work, as essential to the maintenance of high standards within the field of arboricultural endeavor.
- 15) will conduct all matters relating to technical arboricultural activities, business operations and civic responsibilities in a manner that will further the status of arboriculture as a respected profession.
- 16) will, if performing tree care services in the State of Connecticut for hire, recognize the responsibility to be licensed by the State of Connecticut.

Code of Safety for Connecticut's Arborists

The Connecticut Tree Protective Association recognizes that tree care is a high risk profession that requires proper training and full concentration to be performed safely. It often involves heights, heavy objects, large equipment, sharp tools and, on occasion, exposure to potentially hazardous materials.

As such, safety is a primary responsibility for those involved in tree care. Each individual has the obligation to promote a safe work environment. Safety is both an individual and a team activity, in which everyone must play a part.

In addition, the CTPA offers the following as principles of safety:

- Every tree care company should establish a Safety Plan, through which company safety policies are made familiar to all and that is fully implemented through training and enforcement.
- No one is exempt from safe practices. Safety is an essential component of every job. Everyone is included – from the sales person who writes up the job to the foreman who supervises the crew, to the owner who supplies the resources, and especially, to the workers themselves. All supply the attitude, the commitment and the awareness that prevents accidents and leads to safe work.
- The ANSI Z-133.1 standard provides safety criteria for those engaged in tree care, while OSHA 1910.269 provides the safety regulations with regard to work in proximity to energized conductors. Every employer and supervisor should be familiar with these documents, and every employee should have the benefit of information contained in these standards.
- Communication is a foundation stone of safety and so must be a constant part of everyone's day. This communication must occur at all levels and between all parties, including among workers and between workers and employers.
- Safety training is key to the prevention of accidents. Training must be ongoing, regular, and documented.

Code of Safety for Connecticut's Arborists

- Tree care is a team effort. Safety requires that all members follow the rules.
- Advance planning is a critical factor in accident prevention and emergency response.
- Safety demands constant attention, as even a momentary loss of concentration places safety at risk.
- Safety, like any other professional skill, improves with practice.
- Every tree worker has the right to expect to arrive home safely at the end of the workday. Every employer has the right to expect commitment to the Safety Plan at all levels of the workforce.
